

Sheltered workshops provide vital service

Parents of those with developmental disabilities must unite to repeal (or change) the Supreme Court's Olmsted Decision to close sheltered workshops.

Sheltered workshops are the answer, where everyone receives acceptance, safety, counselors, nurses, transportation and jobs. Workers do not experience discrimination.

The outside world cannot accommodate the number of placements needed with each graduation. Please call your government representative. Let us not return to the Dark Ages.

GLORIA A. SAFEE
Amherst

Share your readers' viewpoints through letters. Limit letters to 250 words, and must include the writer's name. • Published letters will also appear online. Publish all letters we receive. This column does not • Mail: Everybody's Column, The Buffalo News, Email: LetterToEditor@buffnews.com